

Why does my screen go black?

Last Updated Saturday, 01 December 2007

Your phone probably has energy saving on for your display. If there is no activity for a specified amount of time then it will turn off the display. See your phone manual on how to turn this off.